Guild Officials Are Named

LEE CENTER — The following slate of officers was elected at the recent meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild:

President, Mrs. Lee Oram; vice-president, Mrs. Herbert Gillett; secretary, Mrs. Bruce Vansyckle; treasurer, Mrs. John Karker; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert Smith; sunshine chairman, Mrs. Webster Keiter; co-ordinator, Mrs. Wilbur Pollock.

Miss Mae House, district Guild secretary, was a guest. The Guild was urged to attend the Conference Guild meeting May 18. More details will be given later.

The president reported the study class on the "Rim of East Asia" is now completed. A "Tea in Okinawa" furnished by the leader, Mrs. Leon Oram, marked the end of the class work. As a result of the study, it was voted to send $5 to the Crusade Scholarship Fund. A report was given on Mr. Kan's talk on the fund. It was voted to give $5 to the Red Cross.

The annual rummage and bake sales will be held May 17 from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. in the Methodist Church basement. The rummage sale will be continued May 18 from 10 a.m. to noon. Mrs. George Ryon and Mrs. Arthur Cole are co-chairmen of the bake sale. Anyone having articles to be picked up is asked to call Mrs. Oram, Mrs. Cole or Mrs. Lee Oram.

Mothers of Guild Club members and members of the WSCS are invited to the May 8 meeting at the church when a special program honoring mothers will be observed. There also will be installation of officers. All Guild members are reminded to bring their mite boxes to this meeting.

State to Cut Road Program

ALBANY (AP) — The State Public Works Department will cut $55 million in new highway construction from its 1963-64 program because of budget cuts made by the economy-minded 1963 Legislature.

The department said a list of the specific projects affected has not been compiled yet.

Organizations are asked to send a representative to this meeting.

Dutch Masterpiece Brings $600,000 Bid

By MILES A. SMITH
NEW YORK (AP)—The soaring market in first class old masters has been marked by another entry in the record books.

"The Merry Lute Player," a masterpiece of the 17th century Dutch painter Franz Hals, brought a bid for $600,000 at the Parke-Bernet Galleries Wednesday night from London art dealer Edward Speelman, who sat at the London end of an open telephone line terminating in the auction rooms.

Speelman did not indicate whether he was acting as agent for anyone. One gallery official said it was believed a private collector in England was involved.

The price was an auction record for a Hals, and the third highest price ever paid at an American auction.

New York old masters 119-1a28 insert after 4th graf. auction.

The painting, by an artist neglected for two centuries after his death in 1667, had been expected by some experts to bring between $700,000 and $800,000.

Auctioneer Louis J. Marion tried vainly to keep the bidding from faltering, but was greeted only by silence.

"The Merry Lute Player," 35½ by 29½ inches and painted about 1677, was one of 24 paintings auctioned from the collection of the late Oscar B. Cintas, a Cuban sugar and railroad magnate and one-time ambassador to the United States, who established a foundation to assist artists of Cuban lineage. In 46 minutes, the sale netted $1,280,500.

Cintas had paid $127,000 for this picture when the John R. Thompson collection was sold at Parke-Bernet in 1944.

Why such a big jump? And why have there been some high prices for old masters in recent years? Inflation is only part of the story. Art experts say the real explanation is simple. Most of the top items have been gathered into museums, and few come on the market any more.

The previous auction record for a Hals was $509,600, when his "Portrait of a Cavalier" was sold in London in 1890. A year earlier, a world record for a single painting at auction had been set at $770,000 in a London auction of Rubens' "Adoration of The Magi."

The all-time high was broken twice in one evening when the Erickson collection was sold at Parke-Bernet on Nov. 15, 1961. The Metropolitan Museum of New York paid $2.3 million for Rembrandt's "Aristotle Contemplating The Bust of Homer," and Fragonard's "La Liseuse," now in the National Gallery of Art in Washington, brought $875,000.

Rocky Vetoes Liquor Bills

ALBANY (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller has vetoed measures that would ease restrictions against selling alcoholic beverages close to churches and schools.

The governor's office reported yesterday Rockefeller had vetoed two bills that would have relaxed a long-standing law that denies liquor licenses to establishments within 200 feet of a church or school.

Rockefeller said in a memorandum that school organizations and religious groups representing all three major faiths had urged him to veto the measure.

Two other bills he vetoed would have permitted public authorities to do business with banks and companies in which authority members had personal, financial interests.

Rockefeller signed a bill making it unlawful for private hospitals and institutions to deny permission to a doctor to practice because of his race or color.

Corvair Monza Club Coupe

Who needs muscles?

Do you know how easy it is to take a corner with a Corvair or park one? Turn this newspaper sideways and it will give you a pretty good idea. The wheel handles just that easily.

The Corvair's engine is in the rear, you see, for not only greater traction but more balanced weight distribution. And that's what makes the steering so completely effortless.

The engine is air cooled, too. No radiator. No water or antifreeze. No boiling over or freezing up to worry about. It takes the weather and the terrain as it comes.

So think about those trips to the beach this summer, those bright sunny days and balmy moonlit nights.

And besides, looking at it from a very practical point of view, it's Trade 'N' Travel time right now at your Chevrolet dealer's. He's got some beautiful buys.

But you had better hurry before somebody muscles in ahead of you. Spring's here. Summer's coming fast. And with these sporty good-looking Corvairs selling the way they are, he who hesitates will want to kick himself.
